Foreword

The Senior Class of 1944, through this yearbook, has attempted to portray life as it exists in Washington High School—that hidden chapter which lies between the first frightened day and the final glorious night of commencement. Thus, personalities, classes, activities, and many other phases of scholastic life are brought out in this volume, in an effort to preserve the memory of the trials and hardships, joys and successes, which characterize those happy years.

Our Superintendent

MR. C. P. LARSON

In 1920 Mr. Larson attended Whitewater State Teachers College and majored in Commercial Education. While attending Teacher's College, Mr. Larson competed in football, basketball and baseball. The next year he spent in the employment of the Milwaukee Corrugating Company.

The following year Mr. Larson was a student in attendance at the Eau Claire State Teachers College and competed here, also, in the same sports--football, basketball, and baseball. A traveling salesman, selling school supplies and class rings, was his occupation for the subsequent year.

Returning to Eau Claire Teachers College, Mr. C. P. Larson was listed among the graduates graduating from the High School Teachers Course.

During the next seven years he served as high school principal and teacher at Dallas High School, Barron County, Wisconsin. His education was continued by further study at the University of Minnesota where he obtained his B. S. degree in Education.

Supervising Principal was his next position which he held for two years at Elmwood, Wisconsin. From here he moved to Durand where he became Superintendent of Schools, a position which he successfully held for six years. While at Durand, his summers were spent in attendance at the University of Minnesota Graduate School where he received his M. A. degree.

From Durand, Mr. Larson came to New London where he has served as our Superintendent of Public Schools for the past three years.

From Shawano he came to New London where he taught Industrial Arts and assisted in instrumental music. The first three years he gave instruction on string and reed instruments. During this time he was assistant principal.

Freshman Class

The crop of freshmen harvested in the fall of 1943 proved to be of bumper proportions. One hundred and forty-eight strong, these star-eyed frosh enrolled to set a new high for dear old Washington High.

These Frosh gave to us many illustrious personalities who proved to be outstanding figures in school life. The so-called "youngsters" were well represented in all phases of school life, particularly in athletics and in music.

We really must give credit where credit is due; the Frosh certainly have a lot of pep and school spirit, which was shown by the Freshmen float taking first place in the Homecoming parade with "Victory Weds New London."

We pay homage to the Freshmen because they have so successfully passed the test. They came through with flying colors. They've passed the days of anguish in which they didn't know their locker, rooms, and how to find their next class with the least possible difficulty. They really did enter to learn, and having done so they now enter the realm of the upper classmen. May they do as much for the school in succeeding years as they have in the past.

Sophomore Class

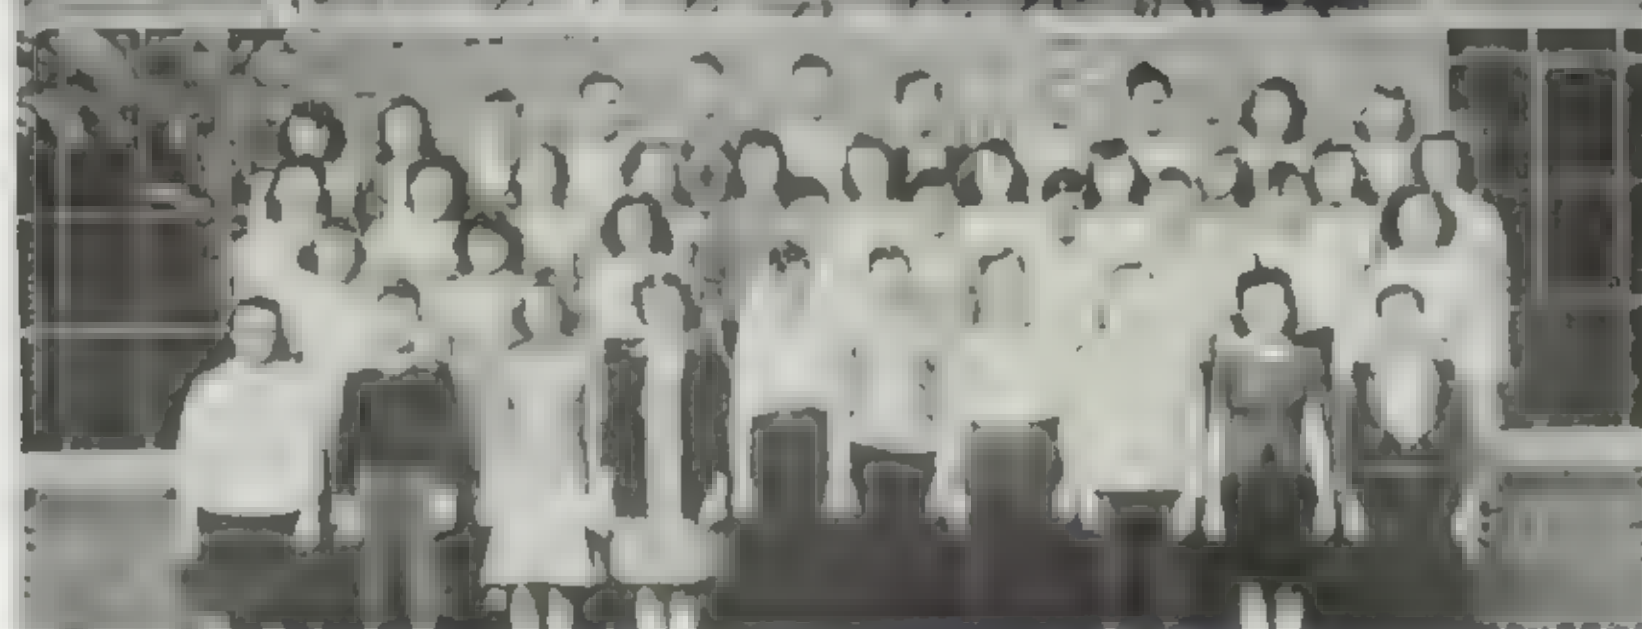

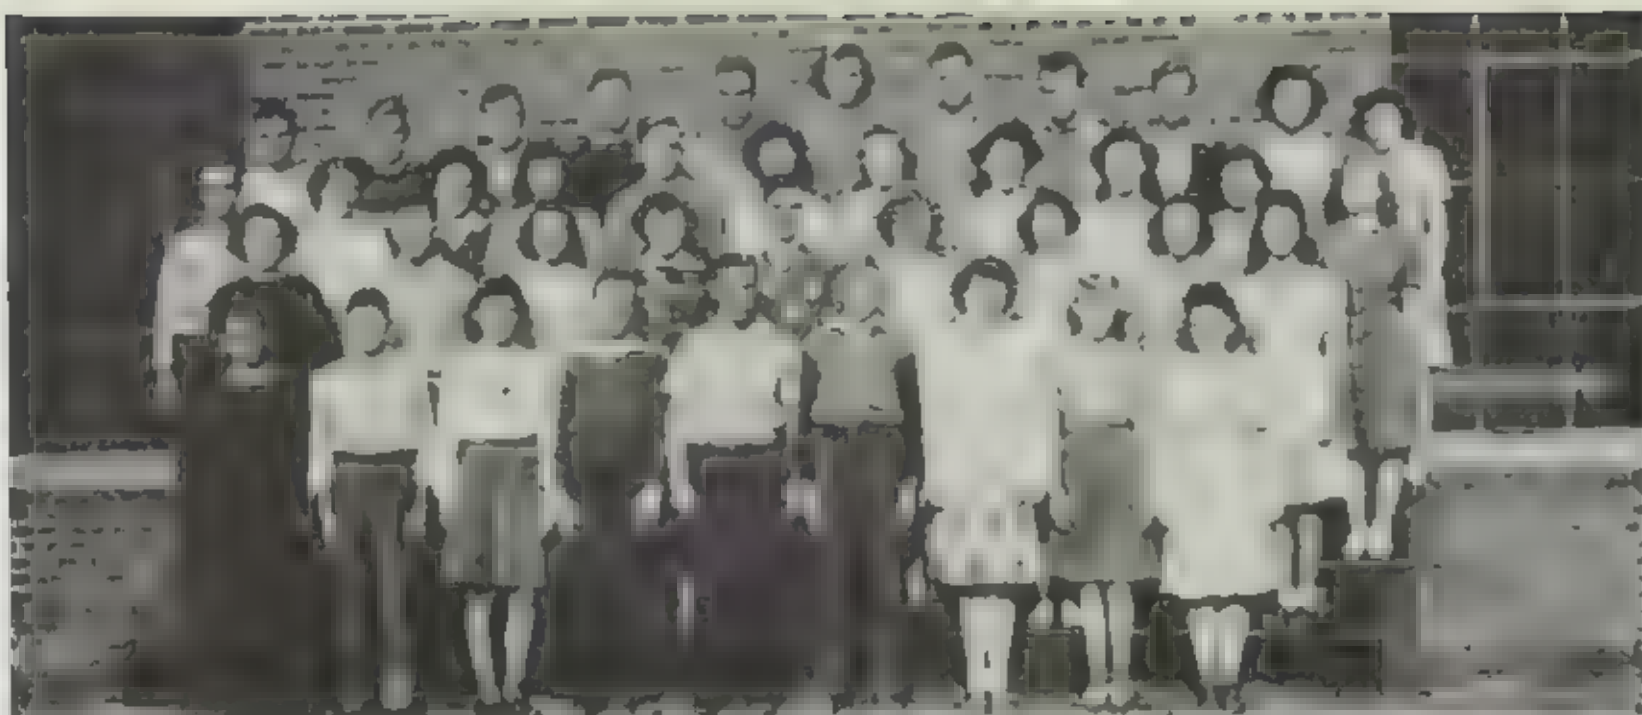

With the familiar sayings of "Look at those scatterbrained Fresh running around" and "How about a coke at By's?" the Sophomores entered their second year of work and play at N. L. H. S.

The Sophomore class has a very high scholastic ability proved by the large number of students on the honor roll. In addition to being a scholastic group, they are well represented in athletics and all other extra-curricular activities, not excluding the "Top Hats."

Among the ranks of our gallant Sophs we have numerous speech students. These energetic persons spend their time attempting to learn how to make the shirt off a scoundrel's back. Then too, this up-and-coming class turned out a very good performance in their one-act play, entitled, "An Eye For Business."

This class has now passed through the horrors of algebra and biology and the girls now utter a prayer of thanks that their gym days are over. And so good bye to the underclass men days and hurrah for the Juniors!

Junior Class

The known as Juniors, who will next year occupy the seats now held by the mighty Seniors, have prepared themselves for this honored position through the year 1943-1944.

Like last fall, the football season brought out such athletes as Bob Joubert, Carl Beddie, Marvin Dent, Wallace Bergmann, Ercel McPeak, and Bob Frank.

Then, too, the following were donated for the basketball season: Ercel McPeak, Bob Joubert, Jack Lemke, Clifford Gerndt, and Edward Jagoditsch.

The Juniors also did their best in dramatics and Forensics. Jim Cristy and Margorie Breitung making up a debate team. Three Juniors were initiated into Dramatics.

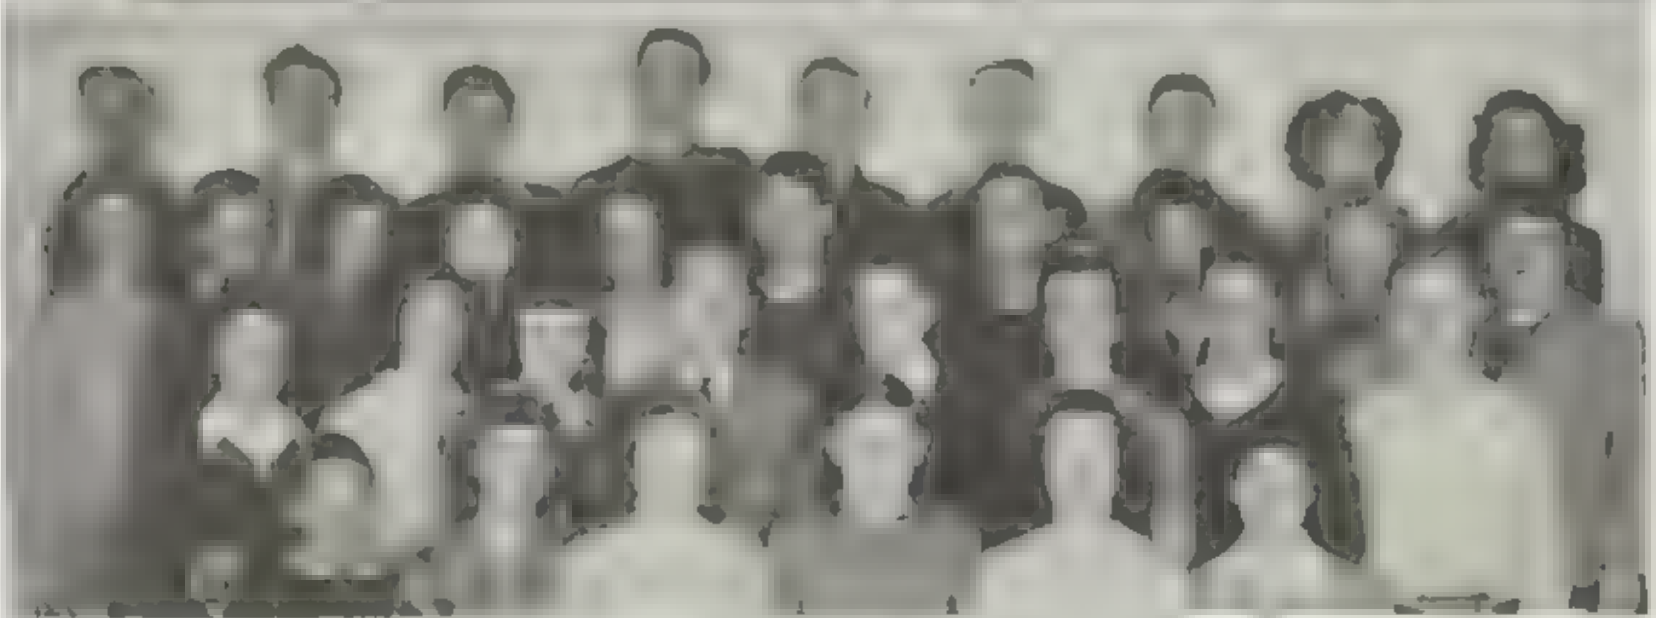

Last, but not least, the music department was favored with Jim Cristy, Neva Kuppelhus, Lois Imberg, Gloria Fisher, Delores Smith, Gordon Rusch, Jack Lemke, Vernon Voltz, Joyce Krause, Maxine Gaddis, Eugene Krause, and Valois Krueger.

As in previous years, the problem was the prom. After much discussion they finally came up with the theme "Apple Blossom Time." Many hours were spent making apple blossoms and painting a picket fence. Harold Ferrons orchestra was engaged for the prom.

Because of a slight deficiency in the treasury, the Juniors sponsored a Sadie Hawkins Day Dance with the added feature of a basketball game between the faculty and the Juniors.

We can truthfully say the Juniors did "Enter to Learn, and will Go forth to serve."

The Thespians is the National Honorary Dramatic Society for high schools. The aim of the Thespians is to create a spirit of active and intelligent interest in dramatics among boys and girls of the secondary schools.

The Thespian Troupe of our school, Troupe 119, guided during the past two years by Miss Schmelke, is an organization of which we can be proud. On February 2nd this chapter presented their annual three act play, entitled "Papa Is A". The one act play contest in which all four classes participated, also was sponsored by this organization.

One of the highlights of the activities of the Thespians this year was a beautiful and very impressive formal initiation held in December, in which thirteen new members were admitted to the Troupe.

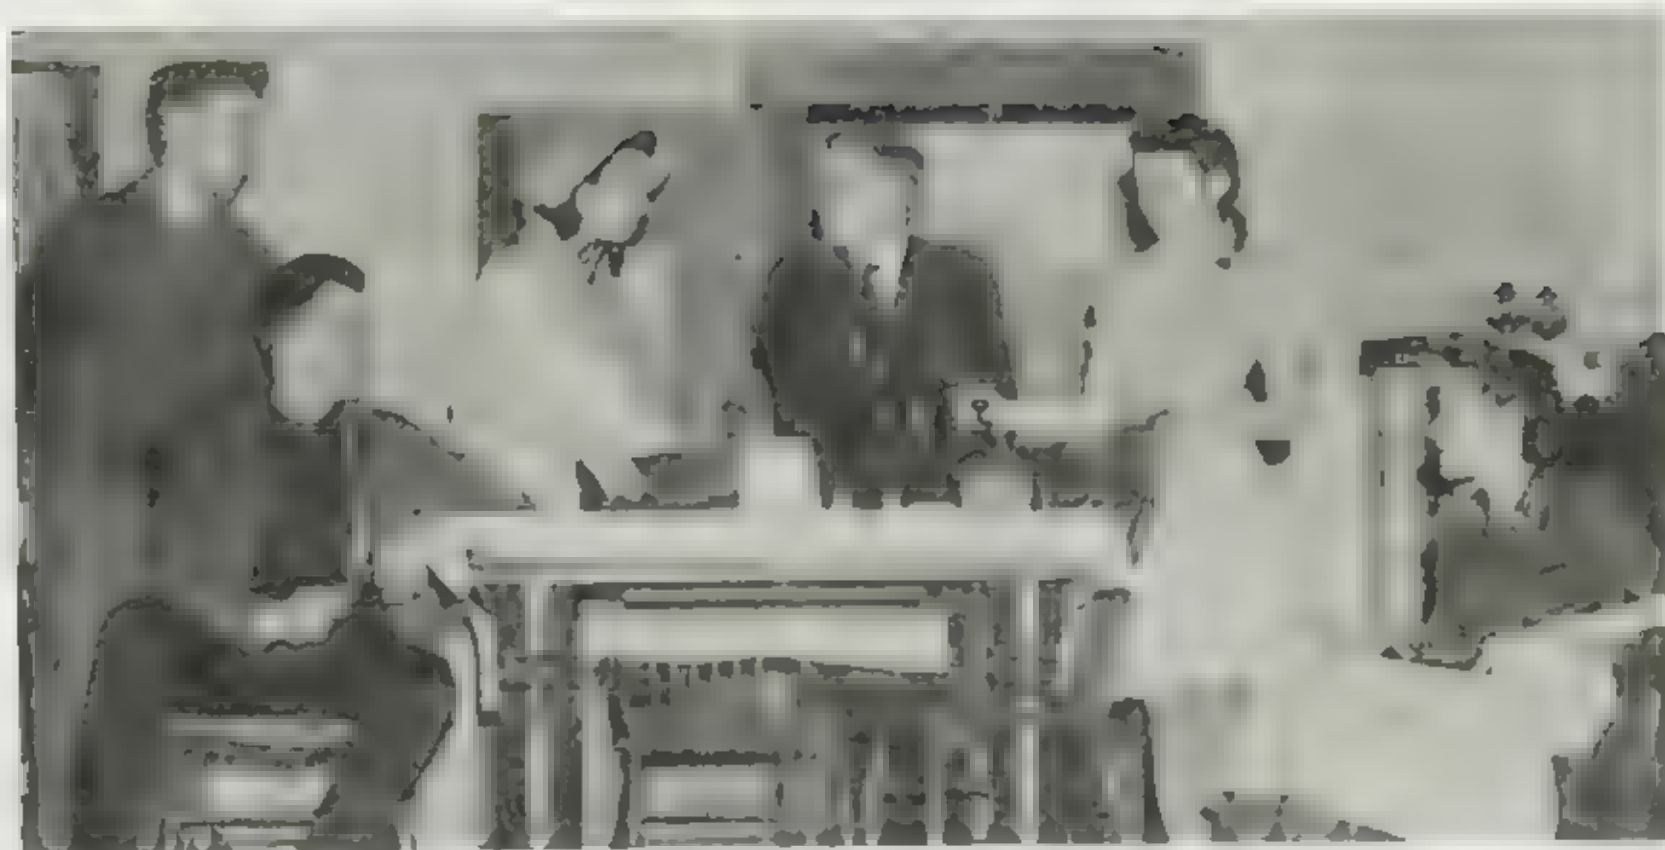

May the traditions of the Thespians live on in years to come and may all future members succeed in upholding the Thespian motto: "Act well your part. There is an honor in it."

Thespian Play

"PAPA IS ALL"

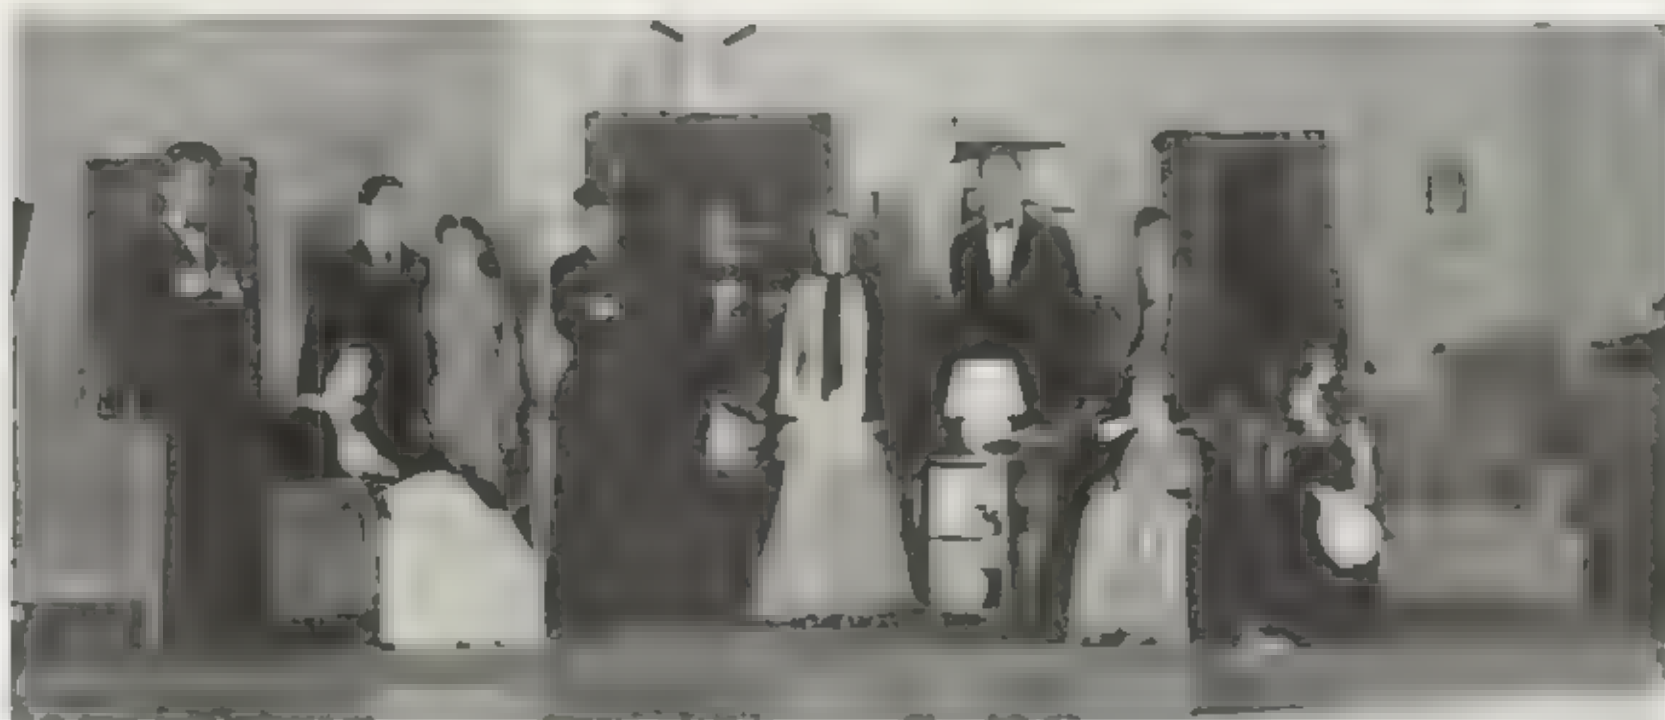

The play chosen by Miss Scherke, the director and troupe sponsor, was one of tremendous originality. It was of a type which had never been presented on our stage before and we must give credit to the cast for the fine job they did with it. There were only six characters in the entire play, thus giving major role to every member which they portrayed with perfection. The play was written entirely in Pennsylvania Dutch dialect. It was the story of a family which was ruled by the iron hand of Papa. Kept from modern inventions and their own personal freedom, they grew rebellious. Papa is accidentally killed but in the third act mysteriously returns to the dismay of all. The police man comes to the rescue of the family and takes Papa off to jail so all is well with the Aukamps.

Senior Class Play

"NINE GIRLS"

After weeks of screaming their lungs out, hitting each other with stove poker, and opening closet doors concealing dead bodies, the all girl cast was finally ready, due to the coaching of their director, Miss Thompson, to give their final production of a blood-curdling drama, "Nine Girls." The cast was a most unusual one but one of extreme ability. The story centered around a girl of an unfortunate background and who had been taken camping with some of her sorority sisters of considerable wealth. Murder stalks the cabin and the climax was one very surprising to an audience of nearly 700 people.

All School Play "EVER SINCE EVE"

The curtain was drawn, March 30, to reveal a newly constructed office of a high school newspaper, The Penguin. The plot evolves around the typical example of an editor of such a paper. He and the rest of the masculine staff are oblivious to the whims of the weaker sex, but not to those of a "Southern Belle" who is a new arrival at their school. However, as the story deepens and the difficulties expand, the fair "ladies" are found to be the most reliable. Outside of an epidemic of measles and illegally operated pinball machines, everything turned out to the best advantage of everyone concerned. Between the second and third acts, flowers were presented by the cast to the director, Miss Thompson.

The song birds of New London High School have practiced diligently and strenuously under the guidance of Miss Doris Perkins. While the soloists worried over their tone quality and pitch, the rest of the chorus practiced their harmonious chords until the thirty-seven voices blended as one. An outstanding event in the year's activities was the presentation of the Christmas Concert which was held December 14.

At the beginning of the second semester the Girls' Glee Club was organized to carry the work begun by the Mixed Chorus to a successful close.

Archery and soccer opened a new season which was to be crammed with fun just as for all G. A. A. girls. When winter threatened the soccer field, things began to happen on the basketball court, with soccer and steps becoming the passwords. Soccer has been under way with a well balanced diet of strikes and counterattacks. The evening of April 21 found many of the girls doing a fine job of displaying their talents in Gym No. 10. Many special prizes brought several teams onto the soft field where a very successful season was brought to an end.

The Boys' Intramural Athletic Association, under the direction of Mr. Shortell, is organized for the following purposes: First, athletics for all; second, to promote a sane and health-conscious program of athletics and recreational activities for high school boys; third, to promote recreational activities adapted to the leisure time of both school and after-school life.

The boys have an opportunity for earning a letter in their Sophomore and Senior years. Points toward letters may be earned as follows: For participating in team activities and taking first, second, third, fourth and fifth places. For participating in individual or dual activities and taking first, second or third places. One hundred sixty points are required for a letter on this two-year basis.

The activities are as follows:

Fall—speedball and horseshoe

Winter—basketball, basketball golf and free throw, shuffleboard, ping pong and volleyball.

Spring—softball.

Victor Kersten served as activities manager for the school year with Charles Matka and Robert Huntley as assistants.

The N. F. L. National Forensic League is to high schools what Pi Kappa Delta and other honorary forensic societies are to colleges and universities. The work of the N. F. L. is to provide the incentive for "training youth for leadership."

The first place banner appearing in the picture below was won by the New London chapter at the State N. F. L. Debate Tournament. This is the highest honor any chapter in the state could win and one of which New London can well be proud. The affirmative team in this tournament was composed of William Fitzgerald and Glenna Murphy, and the negative was supported by Lorraine Jeffers and Jeanne Gaddis. Charles Mattka was alternate. Mr. W. E. Donnelly is the N. F. L. Chapter sponsor.

Debate

The successful season of the Washington High School Debaters was brought to a close at the State debate tournament held at Madison in the Capitol building, March 30, 1910, and at which New London won third place honors. Due to the tireless efforts of the students and their coach, W. E. Donnelly, 75% of all debates for both A and B team were won. The debaters lost only 15 out of the 52 contest debates in which they participated.

The squads started the season off in true fighting form by taking first place at De Pere, winning 15 out of 17 debates. Later at Merrill they tied for first place. Next, at the tournament held at Wisconsin Rapids, they repeated their tournament success by again tying for first place. At the elimination contest at Menasha they won district honors, thus making them eligible for the State tournament at which they took third place. Perhaps the most outstanding piece of work accomplished was at the State N. P. L. tournament held at Marquette University, Milwaukee, at which the team tied for first place—something New London had never achieved before.

Forensics

There is no other accomplishment which any man can have which will so quickly make for him a career and secure recognition as the ability to speak acceptably. Chauncy M. Depew.

Representing New London at the League contest held at Shawano were Virginia Redmann, Helen Jane Smith, Ruth Wamer, Charles Mattka, Bill Fitzgerald, Delores Zachow, Mary Stewart, Shirley Mixted, and Jeanne Gaddis. The following received 'A' ratings and participated in the district tournament at De Pere on April 1st: Ruth Wamer, Helen Jane Smith, and Jeanne Gaddis. Ruth Wamer was selected from many contestants in Extemporaneous Reading to represent the Os'kosh district at the state forensic contests in the state capitol building at Madison. Ruth received a 'B' rating at the state tournament. At the Northwestern Conference Forensic Tournament held at Menasha, Apr. 22, Lorena Jeffers won first place in oratory in the 'A' division. Jeanne Gaddis won second place in the same division in Extemporaneous Speaking, and Jane Platte received third place in serious declamation in the 'B' division. The contestants this year were coached by Miss Halverson, Miss Thompson, and Mr. Donnelly.

School-Daze

The "School-Daze" is the bi-monthly publication of the high school journalism class under the direction of Miss Krueger. The "School-Daze" is edited by Dorothy Giebel and George Henken, and some of those amusing cartoons found in the various copies this past year were drawn by Bonnie Lercher. Copies of the paper are distributed throughout the school through the energetic efforts of the members of the staff.

This organization has proved very beneficial to the school in that it has brought our students in contact with the activities of other schools through the exchange system employed, and has improved the morale of the servicemen by the copies sent to them.

May the "School-Daze" continue its good work and produce many "budding young journalists" in the future.

A Unity was the theme of the All School Party, November 12 in which Pep Club members were night de game side show attendants, fortune tellers, weight guessers, etc.

April 28 found the Pep Club in charge of Stunt Night where the Freshman class walked off with first place honors and the Pep Club won first place among the organizations.

The Pep Club is not only an organization to promote school spirit and sponsor dances, but also to bring about a feeling of friendliness and better acquaintance with the entire student body.

Football

When Coach Charlesworth called the first football practice 60 boys reported. Ten of these were returning lettermen, and also some good reserves that saw action the past year.

With just a few weeks to work with these men, Coach Charlesworth and his assistant, Coach Isaacson, molded these boys into a team that was determined to win games for their school.

Then the time came. The first game saw the Bul'dogs out on top, 18-0, against Neenah. The blocking and tackling was good and the backfield men ran well.

The next game was against the Gallopers from Kaukauna. The Bulldogs won by a score of 26-0.

Homecoming! Ah, but this year it was a sad one. Although floats predicted Menasha's downfall, the Bluejays scored a 19-2 victory. New London's only two points came when a Menasha punt was blocked near the goal line.

Next, it was Shawano's homecoming and New London moved in to meet the mighty Indians. Playing without their plunging fullback, Jim Bodoh, the Bulldogs went down to defeat for the third time in a row.

Next was the game against the Bluejays. The Bulldogs were expected to win, but the Bluejays scored a 19-2 victory. The Bulldogs were expected to win, but the Bluejays scored a 19-2 victory.

Football

When the fray was over the score read New London 13 and Clintonville 12. The point that won the game was a cautious drop kick by Erce McPeak.

Playing their last game against Waupaca were Jim Bodoh, Louis Stern, Roger Clark, Donald Brown, Dick Kieckhafer, Dave Smith, and Malon Poppy. Their opponents were inexperienced and outweighed and the Blue team won a 27-0 victory over Waupaca.

Jim Bodoh captained this year's squad and consistently displayed a superior brand of ball carrying and a fullback. Carl Bellile was elected captain for next year's gridiron squad.

Edward Jagoditsch, Thomas Freiburger, and Robert Lathrop served as this season's football managers.

Basketball

A" Squad

In future years, when you are alumni and are looking in retrospect at your high school days, you will find that the most memorable items will be the success with which the basketball team of '44 did.

At the outbreak of the cage season, in November, it was generally accepted in conference circles that New London would finish in the upper division. Few foresaw the culmination of the season at Madison in the State Tournament.

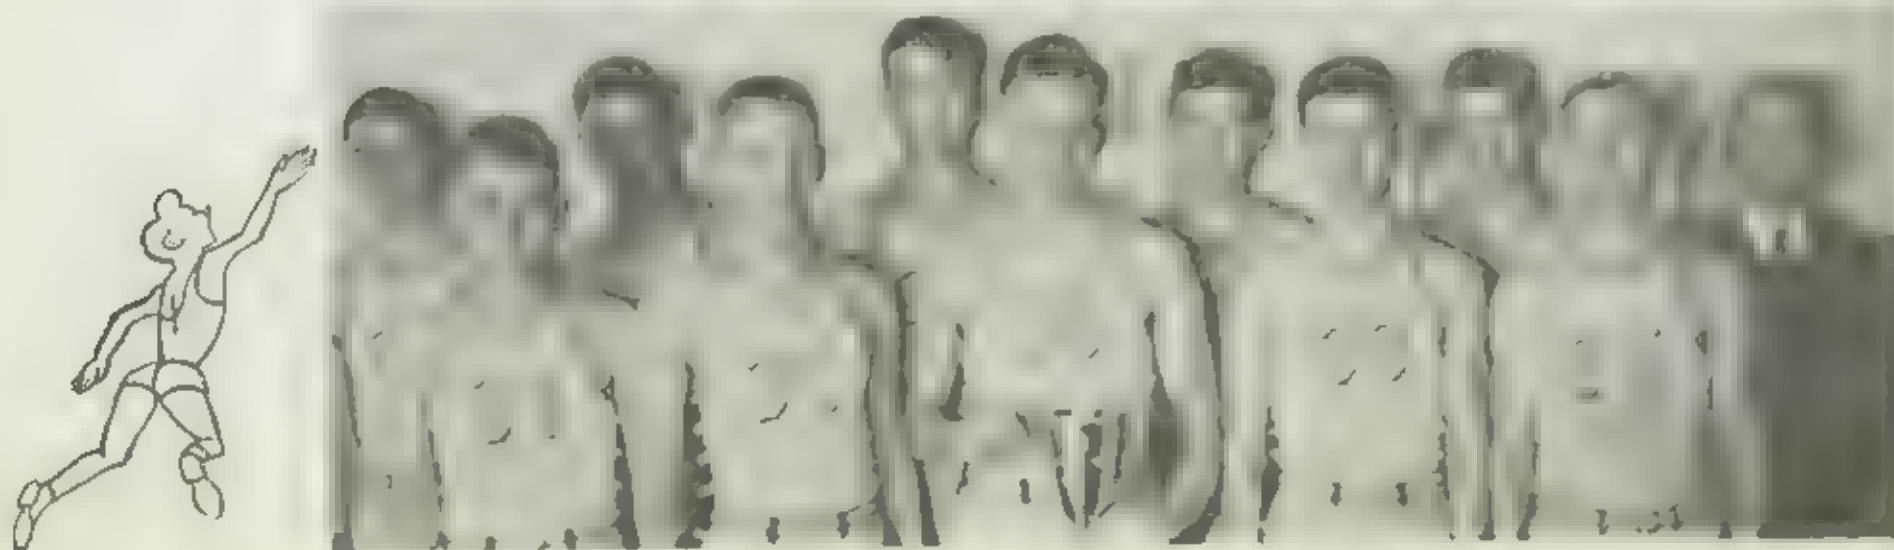

The Bulldogs, after breaking even in non-conference play, took the first four conference ball games. Only the game with the Shawano Indians was close. With a clean slate we were ready to tackle the Shawano Indians, who were favorites for the State Tournament. Fifteen minutes into the game, the Bulldogs were leading by a score of 15-0. The Indians, however, were not to be out of the contest. They fought back and by the end of the first half, the score was 15-10. In the second half, the Bulldogs continued their lead and by the end of the game, the score was 35-15. The Bulldogs were again topped by the Shawano Indians in the first round of the tournament. The Bulldogs, however, were not to be discouraged. They went on to play the Antigo team in the second round. The Bulldogs, really undraining ball playing in the Championship game with the Point and gained a berth at Madison.

The Bulldogs, however, were not to be discouraged. They went on to play the Antigo team in the second round. The Bulldogs, really undraining ball playing in the Championship game with the Point and gained a berth at Madison.

Here, as has been stated, the Bulldogs just couldn't get going and were beaten by the 'Old Aves' of Eau Claire. Their last game saw them in their usual form against Tomah in which the Red and White of New London reached the highest heights ever attained, taking consolation honors (71-40).

Yes, we shall long remember the success with which the Basketball team of '44 met.

Track and Field

The New London tracksters have high expectations for '44 with one letterman, other experienced boys, and the supplement of some good "green material." It will be hard to fill the shoes of such able boys as Don Kringle, Bob Rossey, Leon Graupman, Don Cran, and a host of others who carried the Bulldogs' banner on high last year. But with Louie Stern, Carl Bellile, Mary Dent, and Jim Bodoh as a nucleus, the outcome should not be downheartening.

There are four meets on the ledger for this year. They are: A dual with Clintonville, a triangular with Waipac and Menasha, the conference meet, and the District at Appleton. Maybe some of the boys will be good enough to qualify for the state meet.

Track is by far the best body conditioner of all varsity athletics and requires as much, if not more, stamina as any other type of athletic activity. Mr. G. M. Charlesworth is coach of track.

Senior Class

The scene was Washburn High School in the year 1940 and we were freshmen were trying frantically to find the bright process that would open the book is. Ah how far we have come since that day four long years ago. Even as freshmen we began setting a standard which we have lived well during this time. To the astonishment of our school the freshmen produce the B team of the debate squad and took first place honors in the one-act play contest.

As sophomores we contributed a large number of men to athletics men who later excelled in this same field. It was at this time too that the young Romans and Patriots began taking part in the major dramatic productions offered by the school.

To our great surprise, our class as Juniors took first place among the Homecoming floats. But the spotlight points with pride at the truly spectacular event—the Junior Prom—made especially beautiful by the Statue of Liberty rising above all else, and the large American flag looking down from the ceiling.

How often the scene has changed since that first day in 1940. Now we are seniors, and our class has been slightly depleted by those serving their country. But by this time we have added a large number of attainments to the rapidly growing list. An excellent debate squad—composed of seniors the first five on the championship basketball team were seniors—and many of our seniors took high honors in tennis and music during the years. Yes, our days have been successful ones, but all too short.

It is our fond hope that the Senior Class of 1944 will never be forgotten

"Those Who Serve" is an incomplete list of students belonging to this year's graduating class who heeded their country's call for men and left their classrooms to . . . "go forth to serve." Washington High School pays tribute to these and many other of its students who are no longer studying history but are helping to write it.
